COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 6.

OUR trade report for the week must be almost a repetition of what we have given for some mails past. Notwithstanding the large arrivals of money in the shape both of Bullion and Council drafts, great tightness still prevails in our market here. The Bank of Bombay has made no further advance, but their present high rates are still continued. Receipts and shipments of Cotton Seeds and other articles of produce continue very large, and to finance for them still seems to tax very severely the resources of our monetary establishments. The advices from home during the week have not varied much. Cotton there is quiet and prices much as before, but arrivals business especially during the past day or two seems to have been less active. Seeds are advised as dull, and Wheat quiet but unchanged. Of the Councils drafts about 34 lacs were allotted yesterday at 1s. 8 3-16d., which is a rise of 1-16d., and of these about 15 lacs came here. The direct shipments of bullions from England for the week are £90,000 in Silver and £70,000 in Gold. How long these large sendings will continue to be absorbed without giving relief to the financial pressure here, however remains to be seen. Imports have been fairly active with a good consumptive demand, but tight money militates sorely against any improvement in price.

Exchange is again 1-16 to 3-32 higher, but Freights are weaker, especially via Canal to Liverpool, owing to the large amount of tonnage available, and yesterday 31s. 3d. was the best quotation for ready Cotton.

COTTON.—The demand during the week has been chiefly on the higher grades, which are fairly well sustained in value, but the lower qualities have been much out of favour, and as these are getting into stock, sellers have in many cases accepted very low rates for them. BROACH is in demand, and Rs. 228 is now paid freely for early delivery, which is an advance of Rs. 2 on last mail. Fine Oomras and Dholleras have also been in request, and in the Oomras especially such selection is now very difficult to get, and sellers are very unwilling at this late period of the season to contract to deliver it forward. Our quotations for the lower grades are to a considerable extent nominal, and were the market tested by large offers, lower prices would probably be taken.

Current quotations are as follows :—

Broach, Good	Rs. 228

SEEDS.

Linseed is very dull, and two to three annas ower. It is now coming in in fair quantities. The new crop now beginning to come forward is known to be a large one, and the advices from home are poor, consequently it is only low prices that will tempt buyers to operate. We quote Rs 5-2 to Rs. 5-3 for both on the spot and to arrive, and the sales reported are about 75,000 cwts.

Rapeseed is steady, advices from home being firm and the supply here moderate. We quote Rs. 5-12 for Yellow and Rs. 5-2 for Red. Sales reported about 10,000 cwts.

Gingelly is fully steady ; Hinginghat we quote Rs. 38 to Rs. 39, Kaberi, White Rs. 30 to Rs. 34, Red Rs. 30 to Rs. 32½, Black Rs. 25 to Rs. 28½. Kabri of all kinds is in active demand, and the sales reported of all kinds 4,500 candies.

Groundnuts are quiet at Rs. 23½ to Rs. 23½, and reported sales about 4,000 candies.

Castor-Oilseed is firm at Rs. 23 to Rs. 24½.

Poppyseed steady at Rs. 5-5 to Rs. 5-8, and sales 8,000 to 10,000 cwts.

The receipts and shipments of Linseed to date are as follows :—

	1882.	1881.
Receipts from 29th March to 4th April	1,18,015	96,115
Do. 1st Jan. to 4th April	9,26,899	7,03,281
Shipments from 30th March to 5th April	1,25,677	43,550
Do. 1st Jan. to 5th April	8,65,765	5,11,916

WHEAT accounts from all the growing districts report that harvest operations are now well advanced, so that very shortly the arrivals of the new crop will probably be large again. Fair quantities from the nearer districts are already coming in. Prices are very steady, and we make little alteration if any since last mail. We only hear however of a moderate amount of new business having been put through during the week. We quote No. 1 Soft White Rs. 30½ to Rs. 31, Khandwa Rs. 28 to Rs. 29, Ahmedabad Rs. 27½ to Rs. 28, Kalta Red Rs. 23 to Rs. 23½, and Yellow Rs. 26 to Rs. 26½. Receipts and shipments to date compared to last season are :—

	1881-82	1880-81.
Receipts from 29th Mar. to 4th April	97,711	1,37,430
Do. do. 1st Jan. to 4th do.	22,37,113	12,05,974
Shipments from 30th Mar. to 5th do.	70,672	52,945
Do. do. 1st Jan. to 5th do.	32,63,442	11,88,362

PIECE-GOODS.—In spite of dear money the market remains firm with a fair business from second hands, and in some kinds of Goods there is even a slight upward movement. 45 in. 7 lbs. are wanted as are 39 in. 9½ to 11 lbs. good makes Dhotees of all kinds are firm. Prints are much depressed, and prices are lower. Yarns are steady, but there is little doing in them. Private advices from home estimate the shipments of Plain Cotton for this month to Bombay 25 millions yards, to Calcutta 53 millions yards. These are very moderate indeed, and are a hopeful feature indeed in the future of Indian markets. If the above estimates are correct, they give for the first four months of the year a total of to Bombay 124½ millions, against 138 millions last year, and to Calcutta 231 millions, against 319½ last year.

COALS are steady, and we hear of only one Cargo sold to arrive during the week, viz., a Cargo of Cardiff at Rs. 15½.

Quotations are as follows :—

Davison's West Hartely	Rs. 14½	alongside.
Welsh Hartley	,, 14	do.
Cardiff	,, 14½ to ,, 15½	do.

METALS.

Copper.—Braziers have been firmer on the spot, but weaker to arrive, 200 cases ready have been sold at 46½ to 47⅜, and to arrive 150 cases at 47 to 45 11-16.

Yellow Metal.—Of Braziers no sales have transpired, but the nominal quotations are Rs. 36½ for ready and Rs. 35½ to arrive. Of Sheeting 150 cases have been sold for April-May shipment at Rs. 41⅞ to Rs. 42⅛ according to specifications.

Spelter is very dull. The best brands of English Hard are nominally worth Rs. 8 ready, and Rs. 7½ to arrive.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—A good deal of business was done in 4 per cents. on Saturday after the mail left at 100⅜ to 100 7-16 for ready and 100⅝ for a month's forward delivery. On Monday the market was steady, but not much business offering on Tuesday it was again rather weaker. Yesterday, however, there was a strong demand, and the market for them was much better. There were many buyers at 100⅜, but almost no sellers. 4½ per cents. have been little dealt in, and are quiet but steady at Rs. 108.

BANK SHARES.—Bank of Bombay have been in request, and rates for them have advanced to Rs. 675. In other Bank shares not much as been done. Nationals are weak, and sales were offered at Rs. 98 without finding purchasers. Press shares are firm without material alteration, and the same may be said of Land and Miscellaneous. Spinning shares have fluctuated only slightly during the week. Rises and falls of Rs. 5 to 10 per share have been about the extent of the variations. After being a little better, we closed last night at very much the same rates as we quoted last mail.

EXCHANGE has slowly but daily almost got firmer even since last mail left under the influence, no doubt, of tight money and heavy shipments, and the advance is about 1-16 to 3-32 on the week.

We now quote closing rates as follows :—

	Demand.	3 months'.	4 months'.
Banks	1s. 8 9-32d.	1s. 8 15-32d.	1s. 8 17-32d.
	3 months'.	6 months'.
Credits	1s. 8¼d.	1s. 8 1-16d.
Documents	1s. 8 21-32d.	1s. 8 27-32d.
Francs	2 17½	2 19½

At these high rates there has latterly been more inclination to bring forward, and a fair movement of Bank demand drafts have been bought for May as from 15th May to 15th June delivery at 1s. 8½d. 3 months' Credits have been also done for May at 1s. 8 9-16d.

[illegible] European countries Switzerland has long
[illegible]t in which the marriage tie is most easily
[illegible]t frequently dissolved. The matrimonial
[illegible] of the republic for 1880 show that this [illegible] pre-eminence is still maintained, though not so conspicuously as in former times. Thus, the total number of divorces in 1876 was not less than 1,102. But in that year a new law on the subject was enacted, and the consequence has been that between then and 1880 the number has fallen to 855. Nevertheless, the 1,700 men and women thus released make up no small proportion of a population of three millions inhabiting the whole country. At any rate we have to go across the Atlantic to find an equal ratio of divorced couples to those who remain in bondage. As for the causes which urge men and women to divorce one another or withhold them from it, they are partly to be estimated by inference from the details of these statistics. The presence of children of the marriage naturally operates to discourage its dissolution, and a very large proportion of the petitions for divorce are presented by childless persons. The age of the consorts has also an apparent influence upon the chances of a happy result, and it is evident that if the husband is younger than the wife these chances are smaller than in the opposite case. From the general [illegible]t of marriages it appears that about 18½ per cent. [illegible]ontracted by men with women older than themselves, but in the list of marriages ending in a [illegible] proportion of such unions rises to more [illegible]ent.

into the pockets of Indian tax-payers, he became sulky and has since supplied his own wants and those of his household by selling jewellery which he brought with him from Kabul. The Government of India's decision is that Yakub's allowance should be fixed at Rs. 5,000 a month; and we fancy the general impression will be that he is being very liberally treated at that rate. Though we do not believe Yakub was treacherous enough to instigate the attack on the Cavagnari Embassy, there is no doubt that he was very much to blame in the matter, and it was his imbecile cowardice which cost India and England the money spent on the last Afghan campaign.

ON the subject of railway construction by private enterprise in India, the following appears in Colonel Trevor's annual report on Indian Railways:—

The scheme for developing the rapid extension of railways in India by enlisting private enterprise in their construction differs from the old guarantee system, which was condemned by Lord Lawrence and Lord Mayo, in giving the shareholders of any railway undertaking more direct responsibility in the economical construction and working of the line, by providing that if the concern should prove to be a financial failure, the loss should, to a certain extent, fall upon those shareholders themselves. Under the old system the shareholders were so well secured by the Government guarantee as to have little practical interest in economical management.

In the case of the Calcutta-Jessore Railway, the construction of which has been undertaken by the Bengal Central Railway Company, the duration of the Government guarantee of 4 per cent. is limited to five years, and it is provided that the money so advanced is to be repaid from half the net earnings of the undertaking in excess of 5 per cent. on the paid-up capital. Government reserves to itself the right of purchasing the undertaking on favourable terms after thirty years. It is understood that this Railway Company was started under the auspices of the Messrs. Rothschild and Messrs. Baring—two firms of world-wide financial repute—and this fact has no doubt given a stimulus to private enterprise as regards Indian railways; it is hoped, however, that in future negotiations it may be found practicable to eliminate the question of any Government guarantee altogether, and to limit the State aid to grants of Government land or mining rights, or other similar liberal concessions. But the subject of railway construction by private enterprise is, however, still beset with difficulties. Capitalists in England have become so accustomed to consider a Government guarantee on Indian investments as a sine quâ non that it is difficult to float an undertaking without State aid given in that form.

THOUGH there is a good deal of feeling abroad against the employment of natives as engine-drivers, the Government of India continues to make efforts in this direction. The annual report on the Administration of Indian Railways (of which we have not received a copy, although an up-country paper says it has been issued) states that this subject "is receiving attention; and while there is still hesitation on the part of some railway managers to leave in their hands the driving of passenger trains, or even goods trains on the main lines, they are employed more than they were on branch lines and as shunters. On the East Indian Railway no less than 106 drivers and 117 shunters are natives; and Mr. D. W. Campbell, the Locomotive Superintendent, reports that they continue to give satisfaction. In order to extend the movement, and to qualify natives still more for the duties, 18 departmental schools have been established in connection with this railway, and the average daily attendance at these schools is about 400. It appears that since April, 1875, there has been a saving of 16 lakhs of rupees in wages alone through the introduction of native drivers and shunters. On the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway also, owing to the interest taken in the matter by the late Locomotive Superintendent, Mr. Cooke, there are 55 native drivers, who are employed in connection with the goods traffic and in shunting, and large numbers are in training. With the view of keeping alive an interest on the subject, as well as of producing practical results, the Government of India has required an annual report to be furnished by the different railway administrations of the progress made in training during each year." The wording of the sentence in which the fact is mentioned suggests the question, in what other respects, except "wages alone," is any saving effected by the employment of native instead of European drivers?

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the Pioneer to advocate the application of the decentralisation policy to the management of Indian railways. He asks:—"How is it possible that the railways of this country can be properly initiated, constructed, and worked under the management of an Engineer officer at Simla with a couple of youngsters of the same corps to help him? How people in France and Germany would smile if they knew that this was all we could show in the shape of control in our railway administration, and all the guarantee we can offer of the validity of the schemes now being put on the London market! Into what hideous muddle we are now drifting we can readily see. We have railways under guaranteed companies, railways belonging to State, railways worked by companies, railways under partial guarantee, railways under no guarantee, local Government railways, local tramways, and a general scramble going on without system or method. The railway administration of India is, in fact, at present not merely in a state of change; it is chaos."

THE command of the 2nd battalion Cheshire Regiment (late 22nd) becomes vacant on the 21st instant, the date on which Colonel Glass completes his five years in command of a battalion. Colonel Glass entered the service in 1854, and was a short time in the 91st Foot before joining the 37th Regiment. He served in the Mutiny in the Benares District and pursuit of Koer Singh. The command of the Lieutenant-Colonel Patton, at present with the 1st battalion in England, the Lieutenant-Colonelcy being filled by Major C. E. Bluett, at present commanding the Naini Tal Depôt, with transfer to the other battalion to fill Lieutenant-Colonel Patton's vacancy. Colonel Patton and Major Bluett have both 26 years' service within a month or so.

On the subject of imprisonment for debt the Statesman writes:—While our opinion is strong for abolition, the general feeling is strongly against it, and Government would do well not to be hasty in the matter. It is doing right, however, in asking opinions on the subject, for it will not only receive opinions, but it will in this way provoke discussion, which will soon lead to the formation of better opinions. Were we to venture a guess at the views of the Government on the question, we should say that Lord Ripon and probably most of his Council, if not the whole of it, would willingly abolish imprisonment for debt, and that they have asked opinions not because they are themselves in doubt, but because they wish to know whether in moving they would be likely to carry public opinion along with them. We think they would not do so, just yet. The British Indian Association has no doubt correctly represented native opinion, and if we are not mistaken, European opinion, in Calcutta at any rate, is substantially in accord with native opinion. We believe, however, that it is chiefly owing to want of discussion, and that if the subject can be kept for some time before the public, intelligent opinion will soon declare itself in favour of abolition. Government might do worse than bring in a tentative Bill on the subject, as the surest way to get it thoroughly ventilated.

The Times of March 17 whimsically accounts for the unexpected success of the "social revolution" in Ireland by the theory that the Irish have changed their character and become more like the English:—"The Irishman is becoming very like the Englishman—that is, the Englishman of the dull, morose, selfish, self-satisfied sort—the man who sees everything and everybody from his own point of view, and pursues his object with a dogged indifference to all reasons, interests, feelings, and beliefs that may happen to clash with it. The Irishman, like the Englishman, is now righteous in his own eyes; and his righteousness is to hold money and land, and have the use of it as long as he can. He has beaten a legion of landlords, dowagers, and encumbrancers of all sorts out of the field, driving them, into workhouses. He has baffled the greatest of Legislatures, and outflanked the largest of British armies, in getting what he thinks his due. Had all this wonderful advance been made at the cost of some other country, England would have been the first to offer chaplets, testimonials, ovations to the band of patriots who had achieved it. As sufferers in a material sense are chiefly of English extraction, we cannot help a little soreness. Reason compels us to admit that the Irish have [illegible] and done as they never did before. They [illegible]elcome to that praise. But they have lost, and [illegible]oss we all feel. Paddy has got his wish—he [illegible]ed into a landowner."

THE MORTALITY OF BOMBAY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Your correspondent "Facts and Figures" inquires whence I got my figures about the mortality of Camatteepoora. Does he require to be told that I got them from the Health Officer's weekly returns for the present year? In the 13 weeks of this year 401 deaths were registered in Camatteepoora, which gives a death-rate of 56·3 on the population of the district. I may be true that Camatteepoora proper had a death-rate of 40·7 per 1000 last year, and if "Facts and Figures" chooses to make a boast of that rate of mortality, I make him a present of the argument: the health of the deadly district is certainly not improving.

Regarding this inordinate mortality of Camatteepoora, let me quote the following remarks from the Annual Health Report for 1879, page 311:—"One of the first observations to be made in connection with the discussions that have arisen on the health of Camatteepoora is to draw attention to the remarkable fact that the assumption of an excessive mortality rests entirely on the mortuary tables I prepare, and has arisen from their publication; had it not been for these statistics, the existence of any excessive or special sickness in Camatteepoora would have remained unknown." Just so; and how impudent it is on the part of the Legislature to insist on publishing any health statistics, especially Camatteepoora statistics! The report then proceeds:—"And now, I would ask, is it possible that such a mortality as such an amount of sickness as the mortality tables would show to exist in Camatteepoora could prevail without its being known on what streets, on what houses this terrible sickness had fallen? If the mortality did exist, there would be the lamentable effects of it visible in every portion of the district; there could be no dispute as to its existence. A corruption of public health such as the mortality would indicate would be preceded by violent outbursts of disease and sickness"—[why violent outbursts when it was constant for upwards of ten years?] "attracting and concentrating attention on them, and their occurrence would be manifest and known. But have such manifestations of disease and insanitary influences been witnessed or observed in the Camatteepoora district? If they had occurred, they would have proved the truth of the writings on this question; but they have not been noticed, so far as I can judge, by those who took any part in those discussions, and I may state that neither in 1878 nor 1877 do I remember to have observed concentrations of epidemic virulence in any part of this portion of the city."

And now, Sir, I will leave your readers to judge whether this is not an emphatic denial of an excessive mortality in Camatteepoora! I need only couple this denial with the actual facts which have been gained since taking the last census. These facts are that Camatteepoora proper—the district about which the mortality discussions occurred—had a rate of mortality of 40·7 per 1000 in 1881, and that that rate has increased to 56·3 per 1000 in the present year.

"Facts and Figures" is somewhat proud of the fact that it took five years to get people to believe me regarding the terrible and constantly excessive death-rate in Camatteepoora; but that they do believe me at last, and that "Facts and Figures" himself believes me, for he now admits an "exceptional mortality" in this district, is a vindication which must be immensely gratifying to the dwellers of Camatteepoora, whose life interests were so unfortunately deferred in the extract from the Annual Report which I have quoted above.

The sewerage system of Camatteepoora is at present undergoing reform, and until the alterations are completed not much interest can be taken in the past mortality of the district. The question about the mortality has been decided by the Corporation: hence the alterations in the sewerage system. I would much prefer, therefore, to attract public attention to the general increase of mortality that is prevailing: it is in this direction that sanitary reform is required. We never had a mortality of 32 per 1000 in an ordinary year, nor should such an excessive mortality be now allowed to prevail. "Facts and Figures" may be able to explain it all away in his own unctuous fashion, but the facts and figures of the graveyards and burning-grounds are much harder truths than any pen and ink fancy sketches.—Yours faithfully,

THE GENESIS OF THE ICE COMPANY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I believe the Bombay public have a sort of hazy notion that they are indebted to Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy and Messrs. C. H. B. Forbes and Co. for their ice supply; but I may as well say that I formed a connection with Messrs. Forbes and Co. intending that the ice, when made, was to be Messrs. Farnham and Co.'s financial agents, and that while the above-named connection was in force I was agitating cheap ice for Bombay. I was in correspondence with Frost, of which I now see Madras Ice Factory, and my correspondence was sent in to Forbes and Co. I even drew up a prospectus for a machine ice company for Bombay and sent the prospectus over to Forbes's office. But the Madras Ice Company not turning out a success, and the non-success of ice machines in Calcutta and elsewhere, led me to turn my attention to America, and I wrote, as perhaps may be remembered, to Frost, Hyde and Co., New York, for materials or signature, and I finally in connection with Messrs. Forbes and Co. started an ice company, and hold the printed prospectus in my hand at the present moment. There was a meeting of the provisional directors at Messrs. Forbes and Co.'s office, and I was resolved to go up to Government and ask for the Government Ice-house. But Government did not respond, and the thing was dropped. Soon after Mr. J. A. Forbes went to England; and after his return to Bombay, very much to my surprise I read in the papers that the Bombay Ice Company had been started. Before going further I may as well say that the General Ice Company of London, seeing one of my letters in the Bombay papers, wrote me a very long letter trying to convince me that their machines were all right. But I had heard too much of failures of other ice machines in India to believe in the General Ice Company's machine. Mr. J. A. Forbes, I presume, had got into communication with the General Ice Company in London, and they had convinced him. I considered then, and I consider now, that when Mr. Forbes returned to Bombay it would be all right; nothing more than fair had Mr. Forbes communicated with me and given me what information he had gleaned in England, and given me an opportunity to take lot and part in the new machine ice company, had I wished to become interested; but, as I have said, I was kept completely in the dark, and learned of the starting of the new company upon which Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee plumes himself, through the public prints.

This is a brief summary of the history of our machine ice supply, and I have an idea that Bombay may be indebted to somebody else in reality, besides Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee and Messrs. Forbes and Co., for cheap ice at present. I have merely glossed over this matter. I have a deal of correspondence with Messrs. Forbes and Co., which I could refer to if I cared to lengthen out this too long letter for the press. In all my newspaper articles, which perhaps may be remembered by many persons in Bombay, I advocated cheap ice and bringing ice to every man's door as the one thing needful to make an ice business a real success. And, although it is none of my business, as I have been left out in the cold all along back, I venture to remind the shareholders of the Bombay Ice Company that they have gone on very well as far as they have got; but if they wish really to found their business upon enduring solid rock, instead of upon shifting sand, they must lower the price of ice very much more than at present, thus increasing their sales and making ice a necessity to the "great unwashed," as the people who are decently "well to do;" otherwise with a dock for ships or steamers to discharge ice and about a third of the capital of the present machine ice company, any foreign ice importers can give the present ice purveyers a very close run indeed. It will be too late to lower the price of ice after competition comes in, if it ever is set up. With this bit of advice gratis, which every one knows is not usually valued very highly, I will close the last words I shall probably ever utter anent our ice supply.

THE SAVANTVADI DIVORCE CASE.

IT will be remembered that in this case a rule nisi was granted by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley on the 3rd October, 1881, on the application of Mr. A. F. Turner, solicitor, as intervener, whereby the petitioner, Harriette Achesina King was ordered to appear and show cause on the 10th of January last why the decree nisi which was made on the 26th of July, 1881, should not be set aside and a new trial had; or why such other order should not be made as the nature and justice of the cause might require. The rule directed that copies of the affidavits made by Mr. Turner and Captain King should be served, with a copy of the rule, upon the petitioner; but as she had left India, and her address in England was not known, a subsequent order was obtained for service of the documents upon her through the post addressed to her father, W. H. Newell, Esq., C. B., LL. D., at the University Club, Dublin. On the 10th of January last the petitioner did not appear, and on Mr. Jardine (who was her counsel at the original hearing of the suit) suggesting that there was nothing to show that the documents had ever reached her, an order was made extending the time for showing cause against the rule nisi to the 10th of the present month. On the 23rd of February last the preliminary question as to Mr. Turner's right to intervene (he being the attorney of the respondent, Captain King) was, by consent, argued before Mr. Justice Bayley, and judgment was reserved. We understand that as judgment has not yet been delivered, the hearing of the rule nisi on the merits will not come on on Monday next, but has been postponed, pending the judge's decision on the preliminary point.

ANOTHER ENTERTAINMENT TO MR. WEDDERBURN.

AN Ahmednagar correspondent sends us an account of a "grand entertainment" given to Mr. Wedderburn by the inhabitants of that station, at the Visram Bagh, on the 3rd inst. There were some 1,500 people present. The garden was brilliantly illuminated, and a handsomely furnished and decorated marquée was erected.

Khan Bahadur N. Cursetjee read an address, referring to Mr. Wedderburn's wholeheartedness in the cause of the welfare of the ryots of the Deccan; to his disinterested evidence before the Famine Commission; to his valuable contributions to the discussion on the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act; to his endeavours to introduce Agricultural Banks for the relief and amelioration of the condition of cultivators; to his liberal support of the cause of education; and last, though not least in importance, to his genial and social character, which had made him the true friend of the natives.

Mr. Wedderburn, in reply, said.—Allow me to thank you heartily for this fresh manifestation of your good-will. When I met you here a fortnight ago, I felt that you had already done more than enough in my honour. And now you have quite taken me by surprise with a new and brilliant entertainment in this Alladin's palace of lights and flowers and fountains which has so suddenly sprung into existence. I feel much touched by this additional proof of your regard, coming as it does not only from my personal friends with whom I have so often held pleasant counsel, but coming also, as you tell me, from all classes of the townspeople and ryots, with many of whom I have never exchanged a word. I can only say that this shows how ready the people of this country are to open their hearts to any one who, however imperfectly, tries to understand their needs, and who sympathises with them in their troubles. (Cheers.) As so many of you have come together this evening to say good-bye, I hope you will allow me to say a few words of suggestion, and even of exhortation; for we know that words spoken at parting often linger in the memory. It appears to me that the present is a very important epoch in the social history of the country, when the Government are calling upon the people to take upon themselves the dignity and the responsibility and the labour of self-government. And already I am able to congratulate this ancient and worthy city of Nagar that she has been invited to elect her own municipal representatives. (Cheers.) But it is not with regard to the large towns that the chief difficulty arises as to self-government. Municipal institutions have already been working with fair success throughout the Mofussil, and they will work with additional vigour when refreshed with the spirit of independence and self-reliance. The real difficulty arises with reference to the rural districts, where the people are still for the most part helpless and lethargic. And it is here that I would specially ask for your help. I would ask all classes to meet Government half way, and to join heartily in giving effect to the benevolent and far-sighted policy of our present Viceroy. (Cheers.) And when we come to view the situation, it is not as hopeless as might at first sight appear. For it is not proposed to introduce new institutions, but to develope those already existing. The object is not to import foreign exotics, but to revive and strengthen the plants of home growth, many of which are stunted and weakened, but which are firmly rooted in ancient custom and in the habits of the people. (Cheers.) Among these institutions I refer of course chiefly to the ancient village system. Philosophers and historians have always dwelt lovingly on the Indian village communities as the natural social unit, and as the best type of rural life; self-contained, industrious, peace-loving, conservative in the best sense of the word. Upon this basis we must build. And I hope some day to see the Indian village community not only restored to its ancient independence and prosperity, but even further developed on its aspirations and public usefulness. In my own department I would gladly see the village punchayet—cheers—the council of elders sitting at the gate dealing with all the civil disputes arising within the village, and I am sure they would get at the truth much better than I ever can. (Loud cheers.) Again, in another matter in which I am interested, Agricultural Banks, I should like to see a village committee distributing the loans to the ryots and making the collections. They know the character and circumstances of each ryot, and would do this work better than any one else. (Cheers.) And similarly as regards tree-planting, wells, dharmshalas, schools, and all the other duties and amenities of village life. But it will be asked, how is this revival and reform to be carried out? From my experience in this district, I would reply that the help must come chiefly from the gentry, both of which I now see well represented before me. There is, first, the class who have enjoyed the benefits of higher education. With them has originated the re-awakening of public spirit which is so marked and characteristic of the last few years, and from them must come, chiefly, the initiative in such matters. And there is the no less important and influential class representing the older school, whose education has been drawn from life and experience more than from books. Here in Nagar this class is well represented by our Government pensioners, landholders, merchants, and bankers; and they have already done much valuable work for the people as honorary commissioners, honorary magistrates, conciliators, village munsifs, and members of Local Fund Committees. We must bear in mind that the duty of local self-government is not an easy one. It will require much patience, much labour, much self-denial. But I believe that the people of this country, both from their old traditions and their new culture, will prove themselves equal to the task. And I would earnestly ask all classes to join heartily in the good work, not for the benefit of the individual, or even of a class, but for the good of all. (Loud cheers.) I will not keep you longer this evening, but in conclusion will only thank you once more for your kindness, and say that I would have begged my good friends of Nagar, and shall hope to see many of you again when business or pleasure brings you to the capital of the Deccan. (Applause.)

A HOSPITAL FOR ANIMALS.

A LARGE and influential meeting, chiefly composed of native grain and seed-merchants, was held on Sunday last at the Musjid-bunder, under the presidency of Mr. Dinshaw Maneckjee Petit, for the purpose of denting measures with a view to establishing in Bombay a hospital for animals, and to provide funds to enable the Bombay Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to work vigorously and suppress cruelty in the town. There were about three hundred merchants present on the occasion.

Mr. Dinshaw Maneckjee Petit, in a long speech, explained the objects of the meeting, and observed that although the local trade was increasing, and consequently the number of draught-animals employed in the city was very large, there was no provision to give relief to a number of working animals that might be lame, emaciated, or suffering from sore necks and other diseases. The S. P. C. A. was doing good work; but owing to want of funds it was not able to establish any such institution and maintain it. The speaker complained of the system of inflicting heavy fines on poor cartmen, who had no means of getting their animals cured. It was therefore the bounden duty of those humanely inclined, and particularly of those who derived large profits from the local trade, to make arrangements to alleviate the sufferings of the dumb creatures. He informed the meeting that it was in contemplation to open a hospital; and a few proposals would be laid before them, the carrying out of which would provide funds for the maintenance of a much-needed institution. He then introduced Mr. K. M. Shroff to the meeting, and called upon him to explain the working of the society of which he was Honorary Secretary.

Mr. K. M. Shroff, in a speech of half an hour's duration, laid before the audience certain facts in regard to the working of the society; pointed out the useful work the society had been instrumental in accomplishing in the city; alluded to the interest the Hon'ble Mr. Bayley evinced in its work; and spoke in high terms of the indefatigable exertions of Mr. Henry Cleveland, who in concert with the secretary had done great service in the matter of having the maximum weight fixed at 64 maunds for a cart. Mr. Shroff dwelt at length on the necessity of having a hospital, and engaging a larger number of agents to look after the working animals. He said that funds were needed to construct water-troughs in the town, and to open branches of the society in the principal towns in the Mofussil. Mr. Shroff also gave the audience some idea of the work of the Pinjrapole, and pointed out the difference in the nature of the work done by that institution and the S. P. C. A. He concluded with an exhortation for support.

The following propositions were then submitted:—

Proposed by Mr. Dinshaw M. Petit, and seconded by Mr. Chaturbhooj Morarjee, that in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable to allow annas 2 on every hundred bags of grain and seed belonging to native merchants and brought to Bombay by sea or rail, and the sum thus collected should be placed at the disposal of the B. S. P. C. A.

Proposed by Mr. Soorjee Jeevundas, and seconded by Mr. Rahimtoola Mahomed Sayani, that the levy of the rate fixed should commence from the 1st of May next, and that all native merchants should contribute the fee voluntarily.

Proposed by Mr. Mooljibhoy Jivraj, and seconded by Mr. Hurdas Premjee, that the meeting recommend the mukadums as well to contribute annually some amount to be fixed hereafter.

Proposed by Mr. Khimjee Jeeva, and seconded by Mr. Laljee Naranjee, that a Committee of the following gentlemen be appointed to assist generally in the collection of the fees, and to decide any cases of dispute that may arise with reference to the same:—Mr. Mooljeebhoy Jewraj, Mr. Nawabdas Damodur, Mr. Kursandas Valubdas, Mr. Chaturbhooj Morarjee, Mr. Vusonjee Khimjee, Mr. Hajee Vayadina Casum, Mr. Khimjee Jeeva, Mr. Hurry Bhaujee, Mr. Heerjee Hunsraj, Mr. Hurdas Premjee, Mr. Dharsee Wagjee, Mr. Goculdas Dewjee, Mr. Mooljee Jaitha, Mr. Dewjee Premjee, and Mr. Valubdas Valjee.

Proposed by Mr. Jamnadas Nursey, and seconded by Mr. Dossa Muljee, that the Committee appointed at the meeting should communicate with the President and the Executive Committee of the B. S. P. C. A. and request them to carry out the proposals.

Proposed by Mr. Gokuldas Jugmohundas, and seconded by Mr. Tullukchund Manukchund, that a vote of thanks be tendered to the Chairman for his able conduct in the chair and for the interest he has shown in this work.

The meeting separated after many of the merchants had signed a document embodying the necessary conditions to give effect to the several proposals.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE,
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne late Army Medical Staff, to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances of infallible of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate breach of faith on the part of the CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer: DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London, W.C.
